Students' Speak

When I first stepped into this school, I was like any other student, eager to learn but unsure of what kind of person I would become. Over the years, this school has given me the space, support, and encouragement to not only grow academically but also as an individual. I can honestly say that the lessons I've learned here go far beyond textbooks. Paul George Global School has taught me the true meaning of leadership. It's not just about holding a title or position – it's about inspiring others, listening to their needs, and leading with kindness and integrity. Through the responsibility I've had as Head Boy, I've learned how to handle challenges, be accountable, and make decisions that impact the entire school community.

But more than that, this school has helped me build character. I've learned the importance of compassion, respect, and resilience. Whether it was through collaborating with peers in sports or cultural activities, or serving the community through various school initiatives, I've been able to grow into someone who values teamwork and service over self-interest.

I can say with full confidence that Paul George Global School has not just prepared me for exams, but has truly prepared me for life.

Aditya Singh, Grade XII

My journey at PGGS - looking back at my school years, I have mixed of emotions—joy, nostalgia, gratitude, and excitement for the future. These years at school have been the most transformative years of my life. I've learned so much more than just books and lessons. Our school has been more than just a place of learning; it has been a home, a family, and a foundation for the dreams we all hold. A true epitome of its values to inculcate on us; COURAGE, COMPASSION, EQUALITY & INTEGRITY.

I thank my teachers for their dedication, wisdom, and their unwavering belief in us. You've been our guides, our mentors, and sometimes, our second parents.

You've taught us not just what is in textbooks but how to be a better individual.

To our respected Principal ma'am, you have been a pillar of strength and a guiding force to reckon with. You've shaped not only our minds but our characters too. Thank you for always supporting and believing in us. As I take a step into the next chapter of my life, I feel both ready and anxious to face the unknown. But with everything I've learned at my school, I know I am equipped to take on the world. Thank you to everyone who has been a part of this incredible journey.

Somyaditya Dutta, Grade XII

As I stand at the outset of a new chapter in my life, I find it hard to believe that finally the school days are going to end. I still remember how awkward we were at first, exchanging hesitant and formal introductions.

Reflecting on our journey together brings a sense of nostalgia mixed with sadness about leaving this treasured place behind. I am immensely grateful for every moment shared here. Thank you for the unwavering support system from school. Our distinguished school Management, Principal Ma'am, teachers and support staff, I thank you all for making each day at school special and memorable. As we part ways for new adventures ahead, I want you all to know how much I will cherish these memories. Thank you PGGS, for being such an integral part of my life.

Parents' Speak

A school is not just a place of learning; it is a second home, a guiding light in a child's journey. When I chose Paul George Global School for my daughters, Sarah and Manha, I was not just selecting a school—I was choosing a family that would stand by them, especially when I couldn't be there. While I faced circumstances that kept me away from my children, the school became not just an institution of learning but a nurturing home that stepped in to fill the gap with compassion, excellence, and unwavering support.

The school has played a crucial role in shaping both my daughters. The teachers have been incredibly patient, guiding my children with care and understanding.

Their dedication ensured that Sarah and Manha continued to learn, grow, and stay motivated, even in my absence.

I must take a moment to express my deepest gratitude to the principal, Ms. Rosemary, whose kindness and attentiveness have made a significant difference. She has always been approachable and compassionate, making sure that every child feels valued and supported.

In reflection, I can say with certainty that Paul George Global School has played a transformative role in the lives of my children. The school provided not just education, but a sanctuary of growth, love, and understanding.

A Heartwarming Morning at Nursery Story Reading Session

As a father, attending my daughter – Amaira Gosain's nursery story reading session was an experience filled with joy, pride and admiration. The school's initiative to host such an event not only brought parents and children together but also provided a fantastic platform for young learners to develop confidence and showcase their budding public speaking skills.

Held in school library, the session was a delightful mix of excitement and storytelling. It was heartwarming to see the little ones along with their parent stand before an audience, narrating their favourite tales with enthusiasm and self-assurance. Interestingly, almost all parents, including myself, had unknowingly prepared "The Lion and the Mouse" with their children! This delightful coincidence only added to the fun, as each child's unique retelling brought an adorable perspective to the classic fable. The room was filled with giggles, claps, and cheers, making it an unforgettable experience for both parents and kids. Watching my daughter and her classmates face the audience was truly inspiring – testament of school's efforts in nurturing their public speaking skills from an early age. Beyond the joy of storytelling, this session reinforced the importance of building confidence in young learners. Initiatives like these not only make learning fun but also shape well-rounded individuals.

Big Kudos – to the school for organizing such a thoughtful and engaging event, and I look forward to many more such enriching experiences in the future!

A special appreciation to Richa Ma'am, my daughter's class teacher, for laying such a strong foundation for our kids at this early stage. Her dedication and encouragement have played a crucial role in helping these young learners develop confidence, face the audience, and express themselves freely.

Yellow- The symbol of Compassion

At Paul George Global School, the colour yellow represents compassion, inspired by Late Shri Paul M. George Sir. We nurture this virtue in our students, encouraging kindness and empathy towards others. By embracing the warmth of yellow, we aim to groom students into young productive individuals, who are both successful and compassionate.
